Rector Reflection

"O God, you are my God, I seek you, my soul thirsts for you; my flesh faints for you, as in a dry and weary land where there is no water." Psalm 63:1

I admit that I am uninspired to write my March Newsletter article. It is not because there is not a plethora of topics, it is more because of a longing in my soul to slow down and to sit in the presence of the Lord. To truly be fallow ground. Like most of us, my days are filled with many tasks that demand my concentration and creativity and prayer. This is not a burden. It's living. But during Lent we are invited to slow down and to sit in the glorious quiet of the Lord's presence without having to 'produce' something. To lie fallow. And so, instead of writing a lengthy theological discourse about the virtues of Lenten disciplines, I simply want to tell you what lies at the heart of every sermon I hope to preach. God is. God is good. God loves you. The Spirit of the Living God dwells within you. I invite you to own your longing for peace and renewal and to slip into a moment of contemplation of the goodness of our God. Below is an image... no words, just an image to help us all to slow down long enough to let go of the striving and rest in the knowledge of God's love. Blessings for a fruitful and holy Lent as the days continue to unfold.

See you in Church! Patti+

Meet Your Vestry – Beth Bennison

Thank you, Emmanuel Parish, for allowing me to serve on your vestry. Now that I'm finally retired, I'm looking forward to more free time for volunteering in our church and community. Within the church, I'm excited to be learning more about the inner workings, participating with a like-minded group who has the best interests of Emmanuel in mind, and discovering where I can best fit and contribute to the future.

After 34 years of teaching public elementary school, I'm happy to have more time for some of my favorite things, such as reading, photography, traveling, gardening, and creating mixed media art projects. I've been married to Ted for 36 years. We have two adult children, Catherine of Bandon, and Jonathan of Coos Bay. Our newest family member is Mac, the Border Collie mix, who replaces the joy of children in the home.

Again, thank you for this opportunity to participate. Beth Bennison

Meet Your Vestry – Terrye Laird

As a new member of Vestry, I am pleased to share with my faith community some of my history. Though I was born in Dayton, WA, I have spent all but 2 years as an Oregonian. My husband's family are deeply rooted in the South Coast, and it is now part of who I am and has been for the last 40+ years.

My mother-in-law Gretchen had been a lifelong member of the Episcopal church, and I left my Presbyterian roots to follow their family's choice. David and I were married at St. Martins in Lebanon some 53 years ago and so started my journey with the Episcopal church.

As a newlywed, I was eager to bring home a paycheck and contribute to our partnership and I added to my BS in Science from OSU with an associate degree in nursing. It served me well for 35 years but having been retired for the last 13 years I find I like making my own choices and timetable.

One perk of retirement is the latitude to attend church studies and meetings during the day. I am loving the deepening of information and knowledge that I have had in these years, and I have many of you to thank. In a time of church decline and subtle erosion of Christianity in our country, I think it important to reach out to our other brothers and sisters in Christ who live in our communities.

Blessings, Terrye Laird

Coos Food Cupboard

The repairs of the food cupboard are progressing. Most recently, Cedar Electric relocated several outlets, so the space is better utilized when we reopen. Also, thanks be to God for our tremendous volunteers, Brian Sullivan and Al Rumsch, who have spent many hours completing as much of the repair work and painting as possible to cut down on the overall cost. Thank you to Gene Svatos for his donation of materials. We hope to reopen in March, so keep an eye out for more updates to come.

Classical Iconography Institute, Black & White Value Study Mini-Course

This comprehensive and intensive mini-course is designed for entry level iconography students and will instruct them using an icon of St. Antony of the Desert, a desert father and founder of early monasticism. You will learn how to see the icon's lines without the distraction of color to create a black and white study. You will also learn to re-create the underlying geometry of the icon to help you to analyze other icons as a step in writing them.

Building on this knowledge, you will draw the icon and apply highlights using black and white pigments. The course is intended to be an in-depth way to experience iconography and to apply this experience to other icons.

DATES & TIME:
April 20, 27 & May 4, 11
10:30am - 1:30pm
(Light lunch provided.)

PLACE: Classical Iconography Institute at Holy Rosary Parish, 220 NE Weidler St., Portland, OR 97232

TUITION: $220, includes a $20 supply fee for specialized art supplies ($50 nonrefundable deposit)

ABOUT THE INSTRUCTOR:

Sister Anne Sekul is a Sister of Mercy whose primary ministry has been in education as a teacher, principal, and school psychologist. She felt iconography was a good fit for her culturally, as her Croatian father instilled in her a love and reverence for icons from early childhood.

Easter Watercolor Painting

Matthew 28:1-15

Materials you will need:

- Card stock, watercolor paper or heavy copy paper
- Grease pencil or crayon
- Watercolor paintbrush
- Watercolor paints
- Cup of water

Instructions:

1. Using a pencil, draw a faint outline of a cross on your paper.
2. Take a crayon or grease pencil (we used white) and color the cross. Be sure to press hard to put down a lot of “wax” from the crayon or grease pencil onto the paper.
3. Paint a rainbow or a sunrise over the entire piece of paper using watercolor paint. As you paint over the entire page, the crayon part should “resist” the watercolors and remain white on the paper. If you find you have water drops like shown in the photo, simply use a piece of paper towel to wipe away the excess paint.
4. Let your painting dry.
